BIDDER QUESTIONS WE 3/3/2025

Q1: Is the company able to elaborate on what will be allowed for revising pricing based on final interconnection studies? Should we build adjuster for interconnection costs into our initial bids, or will we have the chance to revise pricing once final interconnection results are in?

A1: Bidders should not include an adjuster for interconnection costs in their proposal. Interconnect costs will be determined for all projects that are short-listed and bidders will be able to adjust their final bid pricing to include these costs.
